Contenuti e obiettivi della ricerca:

La ricerca è dedicata alle istituzioni culturali, in quanto destinatarie specifiche della Direttiva CDSM (articolo 2.1(3)) e mira a comprendere il grado di attuazione del diritto dell'Unione europea in Italia dopo il D.Lgs. n. 177/2021, basando la ricerca su tre presupposti di partenza. In primo luogo, la Direttiva CDSM e il suo recepimento nazionale introducono un unico insieme di disposizioni per istituzioni culturali molto diverse tra loro, che si differenziano per la rilevanza nazionale o internazionale delle loro collezioni, il grado di autonomia amministrativa e finanziaria, il numero di mecenati, l'affiliazione a reti internazionali, nazionali o locali. In secondo luogo, la Missione 1 del PNRR incentiva fortemente la digitalizzazione delle collezioni museali, dando attuazione a un indirizzo ben presente nelle politiche europee dell'ultimo decennio. Tuttavia, il decreto legislativo 177/2021 lascia impregiudicate le disposizioni del Codice dei beni culturali e del paesaggio relative alla riproduzione dei beni culturali, omettendo così di coordinare vecchie e nuove norme. La ricerca intende indagare le aree di incertezza e i margini di manovra lasciati dal recepimento della direttiva CDSM e il loro coordinamento con la legislazione sui beni culturali. L'obiettivo è assistere le istituzioni culturali nelle attività di digitalizzazione e divulgazione delle loro collezioni, incrementando la qualità e il grado di accesso, tenendo conto della loro diversa organizzazione amministrativa. A tal fine, si interagirà anche con specifici stakeholder, individuati tra istituzioni culturali di diverse dimensioni e rilevanza, dai musei di interesse nazionale alle entità regionali e locali. Da un punto di vista metodologico, la ricerca selezionerà casi di studio standard, tipici di ogni modello istituzionale, e svilupperà su questa base linee guida legali per i progetti di digitalizzazione.

I prodotti di queste attività saranno:

- La mappatura dell'attuazione della legge sul diritto d'autore da parte delle istituzioni culturali, con particolare riguardo alle fonti pubbliche e private che regolano i contenuti digitalizzati e nati in digitale. I risultati saranno presentati in due relazioni.
- La stesura di linee guida per le istituzioni culturali, rivolte in particolare alle collezioni di piccole dimensioni e/o private, e dirette ad aiutarle a superare le barriere legali e tecniche alla digitalizzazione. Le linee guida saranno testate in un workshop, mentre i risultati finali saranno convogliati in un articolo con revisione paritaria.
- La stesura di proposte di riforma è finalizzata ad aiutare il legislatore italiano ad elaborare soluzioni giuridiche che facilitino la conservazione e la diffusione del patrimonio culturale e artistico.

Metodologia:

Data l'intrinseca complessità e multidisciplinarietà del diritto d'autore, la sua incompleta armonizzazione e l'interazione a più livelli delle fonti che regolano il settore, la mappatura e la valutazione giuridica saranno condotte secondo una combinazione di principi e metodi del diritto civile/commerciale e comparato. Il tema del diritto d'autore applicato alle istituzioni della cultura, inoltre, richiederà l'approfondimento di alcuni profili di ambito pubblicistico. Gli strumenti ordinativi pubblici e privati vengono vagliati e analizzati in parallelo per valutare la qualità e il grado della loro interazione. L'efficienza dell'attuale quadro normativo sarà valutata combinando un approccio socio-giuridico e uno economico-giuridico. In questo contesto, non solo gli strumenti di diritto comparato possono aiutare a comprendere i meccanismi e gli effetti dell'armonizzazione dell'UE sul diritto nazionale, ma possono anche facilitare l'analisi destrutturata delle fonti pubbliche e private per tracciare convergenze/divergenze e sinergie/conflitti, svelando così le implicazioni nascoste e le ambiguità di ciascuna opzione normativa.

Text in English:

Contents and objectives of the research:

The research is devoted to cultural heritage institutions, as specific addressees of the CDSM Directive (Article 2.1(3)) and it aims at understanding the degree of implementation of EU law in Italy after the D.Lgs. no.177/2021, building its research on three starting assumptions. First, the CDSM Directive and its national transposition introduce a single set of provisions for very diverse cultural heritage institutions, which differ for national vs international relevance of their collections, degree of administrative and financial autonomy, number of patrons, affiliation to international, national or local networks. Second, the PNRR Mission 1 strongly incentivize the digitization of museum collections. However, the Legislative decree 177/2021 leaves unprejudiced the provisions of the Codice dei beni culturali e del paesaggio related to reproduction of cultural goods, thus omitting to coordinate old and new pieces of legislation. WP4 wants to investigate the areas of uncertainties and the room for manoeuvre left by the transposition of the CDSM directive and their coordination with cultural heritage law. The aim is to assist cultural heritage institutions in digitization activities, preservation and dissemination of their collections, boosting the quality and degree of access, taking into account their different administrative organization. To this end, WP4 will also interact with specific stakeholders, identified among cultural heritage institutions of different size and relevance, from national museums of national interest to regional and local entities. From a methodological perspective, WP4 will select standard case studies, typical of each institutional model, and develop on this basis legal guidelines for digitization projects.

Products of such activities will be:

- The mapping of the implementation of copyright law by cultural institutions, with particular regard to public and private sources regulating concerning digitized and digital-born content. Results will be conveyed in two reports.
- The drafting of guidelines for cultural institutions, targeting particularly small and/or private collections, and directed to help them overcoming legal and technical barriers to digitization. The guidelines will be tested in a workshop, while final results will be channeled into one peer-reviewed article.

- The drafting of reform proposals directed to help the Italian legislators to devise legal solutions that facilitate the preservation and dissemination of cultural and artistic heritage.

Methodology:

Due to the inherent complexity and multi-disciplinarity of copyright, its incomplete harmonization and the multilevel interplay of sources regulating the field, the legal mapping and assessment will be conducted according to a combination of principles and methods of civil/commercial and comparative law. The topic of copyright as applied to cultural institutions will also require an in-depth examination of some of the public domain profiles. Public and private ordering tools are screened and analyzed in parallel in order to assess the quality and degree of their interplay. The efficiency of the current regulatory framework will be evaluated by combining a socio-legal and a law and economics approach. In this context, not only may comparative law tools assist in understanding mechanisms and effects of the EU harmonization on national law, but they may also facilitate the de-structured analysis of public and private sources to draw convergences/divergences and synergies/conflicts, thus unveiling hidden implications and amphibologies of each regulatory option.
