The Examining Board will proceed to the evaluation of the qualification obtained abroad according to the documentation attached to the application form. The Examining Board may exclude the candidate if the submitted documentation does not provide sufficient information for the assessment. Therefore, applicants must enclose all the documentation in their possession relating to their qualification in order to provide the Examining Board with sufficient information for assessment.

Le “Raccomandazioni mondiali sull’attività fisica per la salute”, pubblicate dall’OMS nel 2018, sono incentrate sulla prevenzione primaria delle malattie non trasmissibili attraverso l’attività fisica. Vi sono numerose evidenze scientifiche che sottolineano come sia importante推行 dell’attività fisica promuova la salute fisica e mentale, e contribuisca alla prevenzione e cura delle malattie croniche. In particolare, il programma V del Piano della Prevenzione della Regione Friuli Venezia Giulia si propone la promozione dell’attività fisica come strumento di prevenzione delle malattie croniche. L’Azienda per l’Assistenza Sanitaria N°3 “Alto Friuli – Collinare – Medio Friuli” in collaborazione con il Corso di Laurea in Scienze Motorie - Dipartimento di Area Medica - dell’Università degli Studi di Udine, ha approvato il progetto “Promozione, prescrizione e somministrazione dell’esercizio fisico come strumento di prevenzione e terapia delle malattie croniche – PROFITNESS”.

In particolare gli obiettivi a cui il progetto vuole rispondere sono:
- valutare gli effetti di un protocollo di attività fisica personalizzata sulle variabili umorali, cliniche e funzionali (pressione sanguigna, profilo lipidico e glucidico, qualità della vita, ecc.) dei soggetti coinvolti nell’iniziativa;
- valutare se il miglioramento delle capacità fisiche e della qualità della vita in seguito a protocollo di attività fisica personalizzata, si traduce in un aumento del livello di attività fisica giornaliero;
- creare e mantenere una rete strutturata e controllata di palestre nel territorio, che operano in stretto contatto con il Centro, consentendo di eseguire interventi di formazione sorvegliati, sicuri ed efficaci nei soggetti con patologie croniche stabilizzate.
Al progetto parteciperanno soggetti di età compresa tra 18 e 80 anni, che presentano malattie croniche nella fase successiva alla riacutizzazione, che hanno completato il ciclo di riabilitazione e che sono in condizioni cliniche ormai stabilizzate da non precludere la possibilità di praticare l’esercizio fisico.

L’attività dell’assegnista di ricerca consisterà principalmente nell’analisi dei dati ottenuti durante la realizzazione dei test e delle attività svolte dai soggetti partecipanti al progetto, in particolare:

- sarà valutata l’efficacia dei protocolli di allenamento analizzando i risultati dei test realizzati all’inizio ed alla fine del periodo di allenamento;
- identificare i fattori che limitano la tolleranza all’esercizio fisico nei soggetti coinvolti nel progetto;
- saranno definite delle linee guida per la prescrizione dell’esercizio fisico in funzione delle caratteristiche dei soggetti partecipanti al progetto;
- predisporre dei percorsi per il miglioramento dei risultati e dell’efficacia dei processi di prescrizione e esecuzione dell’esercizio fisico con delle attività che possono essere realizzate presso la palestra del centro anche in piccoli gruppi oppure somministrate da remoto con l’uso delle moderne tecnologie.

Text in English:
The "World Recommendations on Physical Activity for Health", published by WHO in 2018, focus on the primary prevention of noncommunicable diseases through physical activity. There are numerous scientific evidences that underline the role of physical activity not only in maintaining the good state of physical and mental health, but also in the prevention and treatment of chronic noncommunicable diseases. In particular, the V program of the Prevention Plan of the Friuli Venezia Giulia Region, suggests the development of the good conditions to promote physical activity both in the prevention of chronic diseases and as an instrument for improving well-being in subjects affected by such diseases. The Azienda per l’Assistenza Sanitaria N°3 “Alto Friuli – Collinare - Medio Friuli” in collaboration with the Corso di Laurea in Scienze Motorie - Dipartimento di Area Medica - dell’Universitá degli Studi di Udine, approved the project "Promotion, prescription and management of physical activity as a tool for prevention and treatment of chronic diseases”.

In particular, the main objectives of the project are:

- evaluate the effects of a personalized physical activity program on the humoral, clinical and functional variables (blood pressure, lipid and glucose profile, quality of life, etc.) of the subjects involved in the project;
- evaluate whether the improvement of physical abilities and quality of life following a personalized physical activity program translates into an increase in the level of daily physical activity;
- establish and maintain a network of gyms centers in the regional area, which work with the Center, allowing supervised, safe and effective training to be carried out on people with chronically stabilized diseases.

The project will be involving subjects between 18 and 80 yr, who have chronic diseases in the post-exacerbation phase, who have completed the rehabilitation cycle and who are in stabilized clinical conditions that do not preclude the possibility of practicing physical activity.

The activity of the research fellows will consist, in particular, in monitoring and supervising the activity of the subjects involved in the project, aimed at the correct execution of the physical exercises (administered by the Sports Physician of the Center) and the subsequent research, in order to:

- measure the effects of prescribed physical exercise, also with the aim of outlining guidelines according to the characteristics of the subjects participating in the project;
- identify the factors that limit the exercise tolerance in the subjects;
- guidelines will be defined for the prescription of physical exercise according to the characteristics of the subjects participating in the project; organize physical activities that can be carried out at the center’s gym even in small groups or administered remotely with the use of modern technologies.
