A selection procedure is hereby launched for the award of 1 research grant at the University of Udine, as identified in Attachment A which constitutes an integral part of the present announcement. The research grant is linked to the research project and is subject and conditioned upon the relative funding.
The fellowship may be renewed, in compliance with Art. 22, Law No. 240 of 30 December 2010 (as in the text in force before the implementation of the Conversion Law of the D.L. 36/2022, L. 79/2022), Law No. 11 of 27 February 2015, and the current regulations of the University of Udine for awarding research grants, issued with the Rector’s Decree No. 182 of 31 March 2021. The research fellowship does not give rise to any right with regards to accessing University posts.
Any personal communication to candidates related to this selection will be sent exclusively to the email address indicated when registering for the selection, as mentioned in Art. 5.

Art. 2
The research grant described in this competition announcement and the required qualifications to apply for the position are identified in Attachment A. The lack of the admission requirements leads to the automatic exclusion from the competition procedure.
Possession of a PhD or equivalent degree obtained abroad or, only for the interested areas, of a medical specialization accompanied by an adequate scientific production, constitutes a preferential qualification for awarding the research fellowship of this selection, if it has not been provided as a mandatory requirement.

For the only purpose of the admission to the competition, the Examining Board (Art. 7) shall assess the equivalence of the qualification obtained abroad, except for the evaluation of the medical specialization qualification to which Article 38 of the Legislative Decree 165/2001 and subsequent modifications and additions, and EU regulations on the matter, shall be applied.

The Examining Board will proceed to the evaluation of the qualification obtained abroad according to the documentation attached to the application form. The Examining Board may exclude the candidate if the submitted documentation does not provide sufficient information for the assessment. Therefore, applicants must enclose all the documentation in their possession relating to their qualification in order to provide the Examining Board with sufficient information for assessment.

Candidates holding a qualification issued by a European Research Area country, if successful, must submit, if not already attached to the application form one of the following options:

- CIMEA Certificate of comparability of the foreign qualification, issued by CIMEA (Information Centre on Academic Mobility and Equivalence) via the "diplome" service at https://cimea.diplo-me.eu/udine/#/auth/login

Candidates holding a qualification issued by a non-European Research Area country, if successful, must submit, if not already attached to the application form one of the following options:
- Declaration of the on-site value of the qualification and the certificate relating to the degree with examinations and grades. A certificate in a language other than Italian or English must be accompanied by an official translation into one of these languages (certified by the competent diplomatic-consular authority or certified by a court in Italy).
- CIMEA Certificate of comparability of the foreign qualification, issued by CIMEA (Information Centre on Academic Mobility and Equivalence) via the “diplome” service at https://cimea.diplo-me.eu/udine/#/auth/login

If the Supplement Diploma or the statement/attestation of comparability are not available when signing the contract, the applicant must demonstrate that he/she has requested the documentation and submit it as soon as possible.

Any exclusion from the selection procedure due to lack of eligibility requirements, absence of required documents, failure to sign the selection application or submission of the selection application in a manner different from what is provided for in this call for applications will be communicated to applicants exclusively at the email address indicated in the application form.

Testo in italiano:
La ricerca affidata all’assegnista si svolgerà concentrandosi sui tre sottotemi che seguono:

1) Il lavoro sul primo sottotema mira al superamento della sistemazione storica, morfologica e terminologica su cui si basano, ad oggi, le descrizioni metriche (il punto di riferimento bibliografico è dato dai paragrafi dedicati alla rima nel saggio di Pier Vincenzo Mengaldo Questioni metriche novecentesche (in ld., La tradizione del Novecento. Terza serie, Torino, Einaudi, 1989, pp. 27-74). A tal fine, si assume come principio-guida la considerazione fonologica delle forme para-rimiche (quelle che tradizionalmente – e non sempre senza esiti impressionistici, vengono definite quasi-rima, rima imperfetta, assonanza, consonanza ecc.). È necessario verificare la produttività di un metodo di analisi che opponga, entro la coppia o entro la serie rima, non fonemi ma tratti. La relazione fonica ACA : ARA, per fare un esempio, appare qualitativamente diversa da ACA : AGA, ma entrambe sono comunemente terminologicamente individuate come assonanze. La prima, tuttavia, oppone due consonanti senza tratti comuni, la seconda due consonanti opposte per il solo tratto sordo/sonoro, e in ciò sta la ragione della maggiore prossimità della seconda alla rima perfetta. Una riflessione analoga interessa i nessi consonantici: rispetto alla rima perfetta, un’assonanza come ANTO : ANDO è certamente sentita come “più rima” di ANTO : ARSO. Si tratta, dunque, di accertare se l’usus dei poeti tenda effettivamente a privilegiare l’accostamento para-rimico di segmenti versali foneticamente prossimi, e di proporre una griglia articolata che dia segmentazione tipologica coerente al continuum che ha a un capo la rima perfetta e all’altro la rima-zero.
2) Entro le strutture metriche libere, laddove il manifestarsi di una relazione rimica o para-rimica è svincolato da una strutturazione che lo renda, totalmente o parzialmente, prevedibile, un approccio innovativo consiste nella considerazione cognitiva del rapporto dinamico tra segmenti fonicamente relativi: rime e forme para-rimiche. Tale approccio, a uno stato germinale, sta alla base della polarità tra rima d’attesa e rima d’eco accolta nella Metrica italiana di Aldo Menichetti («La definizione di rima come “rapporto” implica che, nella progressione temporale di un testo, il primo termine in gioco si rivelì portatore di rima solo allorché compare il secondo: il primo produce un’attesa che il secondo termine viene a colmare»). Uno studio di Rodolfo Zucco (Inganni e adempimenti. Su alcune tecniche della rima, in Giorgio Caproni. Lingua, stile, figure, a cura di D. Colussi e P. Zublena, Macerata, Quodlibet, 2014, pp. 73-95) basato sulle ricerche del musicologo Leonard B. Meyer (in trad. it: Emozione e significato nella musica, Bologna, il Mulino, 1992) e del semiologo Daniele Barbieri (Nel corso del testo, Milano, Bompiani, 2004) ha rielaborato detta polarità ipotizzando un modello a tre elementi: rima d’eco, rima di riscontro, rima/e d’eco. Si ritiene che la valutazione delle serie rimiche e pararimiche entro un testo non astratto dal suo effettivo sviluppo nel tempo (fatto oggetto di studio, cioè, non come dato ma come processo) meritì di essere raffinata nell’approfondimento delle strutture cognitive ed estesa a un corpus testuale che consenta l’accertamento di quanto, fin qui, è stato saggiato a livello sperimentale.

Text in English:
The research entrusted to the grant holder will be carried out by focusing on the following three sub-themes:

1) The work on the first sub-theme aims to overcome the historical, morphological and terminological arrangement on which metrical descriptions are based to date (the bibliographic point of reference is given by the paragraphs dedicated to rhyme in Pier Vincenzo Mengaldo’s essay Questioni metriche novecentesche (in Id., La tradizione del Novecento. Terza serie, Torino, Einaudi, 1989, pp. 27-74). To this end, the phonological consideration of para-rhyme forms (those which traditionally - and not always without impressionistic results, they are defined as quasi-rime, imperfect rhyme, assonance, consonance, etc.). It is necessary to verify the productivity of a method of analysis that opposes, within the pair or within the rhyme series, not phonemes but traits. The phonic relationship ACA : ARA, for example, appears qualitatively different from ACA : AGA, but both are commonly terminologically identified as assonances. The first, however, opposes two consonants without common features, the second two consonants opposite only for the voiceless/voiced feature, and in this lies the reason for the greater proximity of the second to the perfect rhyme. A similar reflection concerns consonant connections: compared to perfect rhyme, an assonance such as ANTO : ANDO is certainly felt to be "more rhyming" than ANTO : ARSO. It is therefore a question of ascertaining whether the poets’ usus actually tends to favor the para-rhymic juxtaposition of phonetically close verse segments, and of proposing an articulated grid that gives coherent typological segmentation to the continuum which has the perfect rhyme at one end. and to the other the zero-rhyme.

2) Within free metrical structures, where the manifestation of a rhyme or para-rhyme relationship is freed from a structuring that makes it, totally or partially, predictable, an innovative approach consists in the cognitive consideration of the dynamic relationship between phonically related segments: rhymes and forms para-rhyme. This approach, in a germinal state, is at the basis of the
The polarity between expectant rhyme and echo rhyme accepted in Aldo Menichetti's Metrica italiana ("The definition of rhyme as a "relationship" implies that, in the temporal progression of a text, the first term in play reveals itself to be the bearer of rhyme only when the second appears: the first produces an expectation that the second term fills"). A study by Rodolfo Zucco (Inganni e adempimenti. Su alcune tecniche della rima, in Giorgio Caproni. Lingua, stile, figure, a cura di D. Colussi e P. Zublena, Macerata, Quodlibet, 2014, pp. 73-95) based on the research of the musicologist Leonard B. Meyer (in Italian translation: Emozione e significato nella musica, Bologna, il Mulino, 1992) and the semiotologist Daniele Barbieri (Nel corso del testo, Milano, Bompiani, 2004) he reworked this polarity by hypothesizing a three-element model: echo rhyme, echo rhyme, echo rhyme(s). It is believed that the evaluation of rhyme and pararhyme series within a text that is not abstract from its actual development over time (a fact that is the object of study, that is, not as a given but as a process) deserves to be refined in the in-depth study of the cognitive structures and extended to a textual corpus that allows the verification of what has been tested at an experimental level up to now.

3) Equal attention, both for morphological and cognitive aspects, will be dedicated to the phenomenology of repetition on the left side of the text. There is a fundamental essay by Stefano Dal Bianco on Anafore e ripetizioni lessicali nella poesia italiana fra le due guerre (in «Studi Novecenteschi», XXV, 56, 1998, pp. 207-231). On this model, the fellow's work will consist of research on the subsequent phases of verse production in Italy. The focus on anaphora and similar figures could transfer from the text in verse to the poem en prose, a very vital form from the 1960s to today.
